Western Australia atlas of mineral deposits and petroleum fields 2015

compiled by

RW Cooper, PB Abeyasinghe, CA Strong, LJ Day, and F Irimies

This ATLAS shows the location of Western Australia's mineral deposits and petroleum fields, set against a background of simplified geology and topographic information. The publication is an update of the 'Western Australia atlas of mineral deposits and petroleum fields 2013'.

In this edition significant changes have been made to the layout of the ATLAS. The first pages have been changed from 1:2.5 million to 1:2.2 million scale double-page spreads with insets removed. Larger-scale 1:1 million inset pages, again as double-page spreads, have been produced and placed after all the pages from which they are extracted. In all cases the changes have been made to more clearly show the areas with a higher density of sites. Accordingly, the number of map pages has increased from 17 in 2013 to 28 in 2015.

This publication draws together data from a number of sources. The minerals and construction materials information comes from the Department of Mines and Petroleum (DMP) 'Mines, mineral deposits, and prospects' database (MINEDEX). Since its inception in 1984, MINEDEX has recorded the locations and other attributes of all mines and deposits with defined resources. The ATLAS also includes major mining-related infrastructure sites captured in MINEDEX — i.e. nickel, alumina, and silicon smelters or refineries — but does not display MINEDEX prospects, exploration targets, occurrences, geological observations, most infrastructure types (excluding the smelters and refineries), or the Inventory of Abandoned Mines (WABMINES) mine features.

Information on petroleum fields in Western Australia (onshore and in State waters) and for adjacent offshore waters controlled by the Commonwealth is derived from a variety of sources, including DMP's 'Western Australian petroleum and geothermal information management system' database (WAPIMS) and the 'Petroleum and Geothermal' section of DMP's website. Only major fields are shown, and are identified by a representative well for that field.

A total of 19 344 sites are plotted in this ATLAS, only some of which display commodity abbreviations. The names of about 10% of those sites (1999 sites) are printed on the maps and appear in the index pages, with priority given to operating mines and larger deposits. In the areas for which there are enlargements, at the 1:2.2 million scale only certain selected mineral site names appear. More site name information, including commodities, is provided on the 1:1 million scale maps. All petroleum fields are named, and construction material sites belonging to the subset of 'Dimension stone' are also named and given the full symbol size. All other construction material sites (e.g. for rock, aggregate, gravel, sand, limestone) are not named, nor are commodities assigned, and these are shown with a smaller symbol size. Commodity groups are also arranged alphabetically on both the Atlas Reference and Commodity Group index pages.

The index categorizes named sites by their stage of development, using 'o' for operating sites and those currently being developed for commercial production, 'u' for undeveloped deposits and proposed mines, and 'c' representing closed operations, including historic mine sites and those currently under care and maintenance as at January 2015. On the maps, named operating sites appear in bold and black, whereas closed or undeveloped named sites are shown in dark grey. Commercial ownership of named sites (and projects) is also listed in the index. Historic mine sites are not linked to current projects, so commercial ownership is left blank. Mineral commodities, ownership, stage of development, and location of each site have been extracted from the MINEDEX database, which is continually being updated. Digital downloads or live web-based enquiries, including an up-to-date extract of these map-specific data, are available from Online systems at <www.dmp.wa.gov.au>.

Further enquiries as to the status of the sites and projects included in this booklet can be made by email to minedex@dmp.wa.gov.au. The locations and status of petroleum and non-mineral downstream processing operations can also be viewed on DMP's annually updated 'Major Resource Projects' map. Up-to-date information on Western Australian petroleum fields (onshore and in State-controlled waters) is available from the Petroleum Division of DMP. Field data for offshore Commonwealth-controlled waters is current as of mid-2012; enquiries for the latest information on fields in offshore waters should be addressed to the National Offshore Petroleum Titles Administrator (NOPTA) at info@nopta.gov.au, or to Geoscience Australia (clientservices@ga.gov.au).

All maps in this publication have been produced using the Albers Equal Area Projection (Geocentric Datum of Australia 1994), with central meridian 121°00'E and standard parallels 17°30' and 31°30'S.

TO LOCATE A PROJECT

Two numbers are used to locate sites in this ATLAS. The first gives the map page. The second is a grid reference number, which represents the 1:100 000 map sheet the site is located on. The first two digits of this reference number give the east–west location for the site, and the second two digits the north–south location.
