Western Australia atlas of mineral deposits and petroleum fields 2001

This ATLAS has been produced to show the location of Western Australia's mineral and petroleum resource projects and deposits, set against a background of simplified geology and topographic information. The publication is an update of the 'Western Australia atlas of mineral deposits and petroleum fields 1999'.

This publication draws together data from a number of sources. The 'minerals' information comes from the Department's 'Mines and Mineral Deposits' database (MINEDEX) that has, since 1984, recorded the sites of all mines, process plants, and deposits with defined resources. Around 3289 sites are plotted in the ATLAS. Names of 1100 major sites have been included, with priority given to operating mines. Because of the small scale of the maps used in this publication, a number of closely spaced pits and deposits have been consolidated into single entities and given project names. Quarries for construction materials (rock, aggregate, gravel, and sand) and sites with confidential location information have been omitted. Sites of industrial minerals are also included.

The index at the back of the ATLAS categorizes sites by their stage of development, with 'o' for operating sites and those currently being developed for commercial production, 'u' for undeveloped deposits and projects, and 'c' representing closed operations and those currently under care and maintenance as at late 2000. On the map, named operating sites and projects appear in black, whereas closed or undeveloped ones are shown in grey.

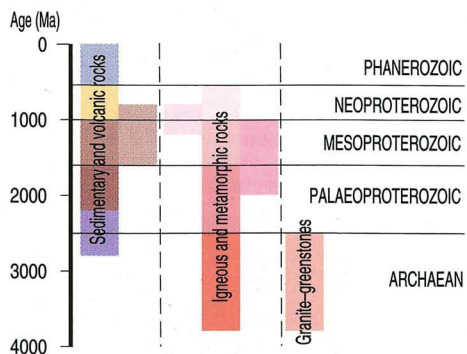

Significant commercial ownership (greater than 15% as at late 2000) of named projects and sites are listed in the index.

Mineral commodities, ownership, stage of development, and location for each site have been extracted from the MINEDEX database, which is continually being updated with a new digital release approximately every six months. Details of the MINEDEX data are available in GSWA Record 2000/13. Further enquiries as to the current status of the sites and projects included in this booklet can be made by calling (08) 9222 3328 or email geological_survey@dme.wa.gov.au. Information about mineral exploration data can be obtained from the 'Western Australian Mineral Exploration' database (WAMEX).

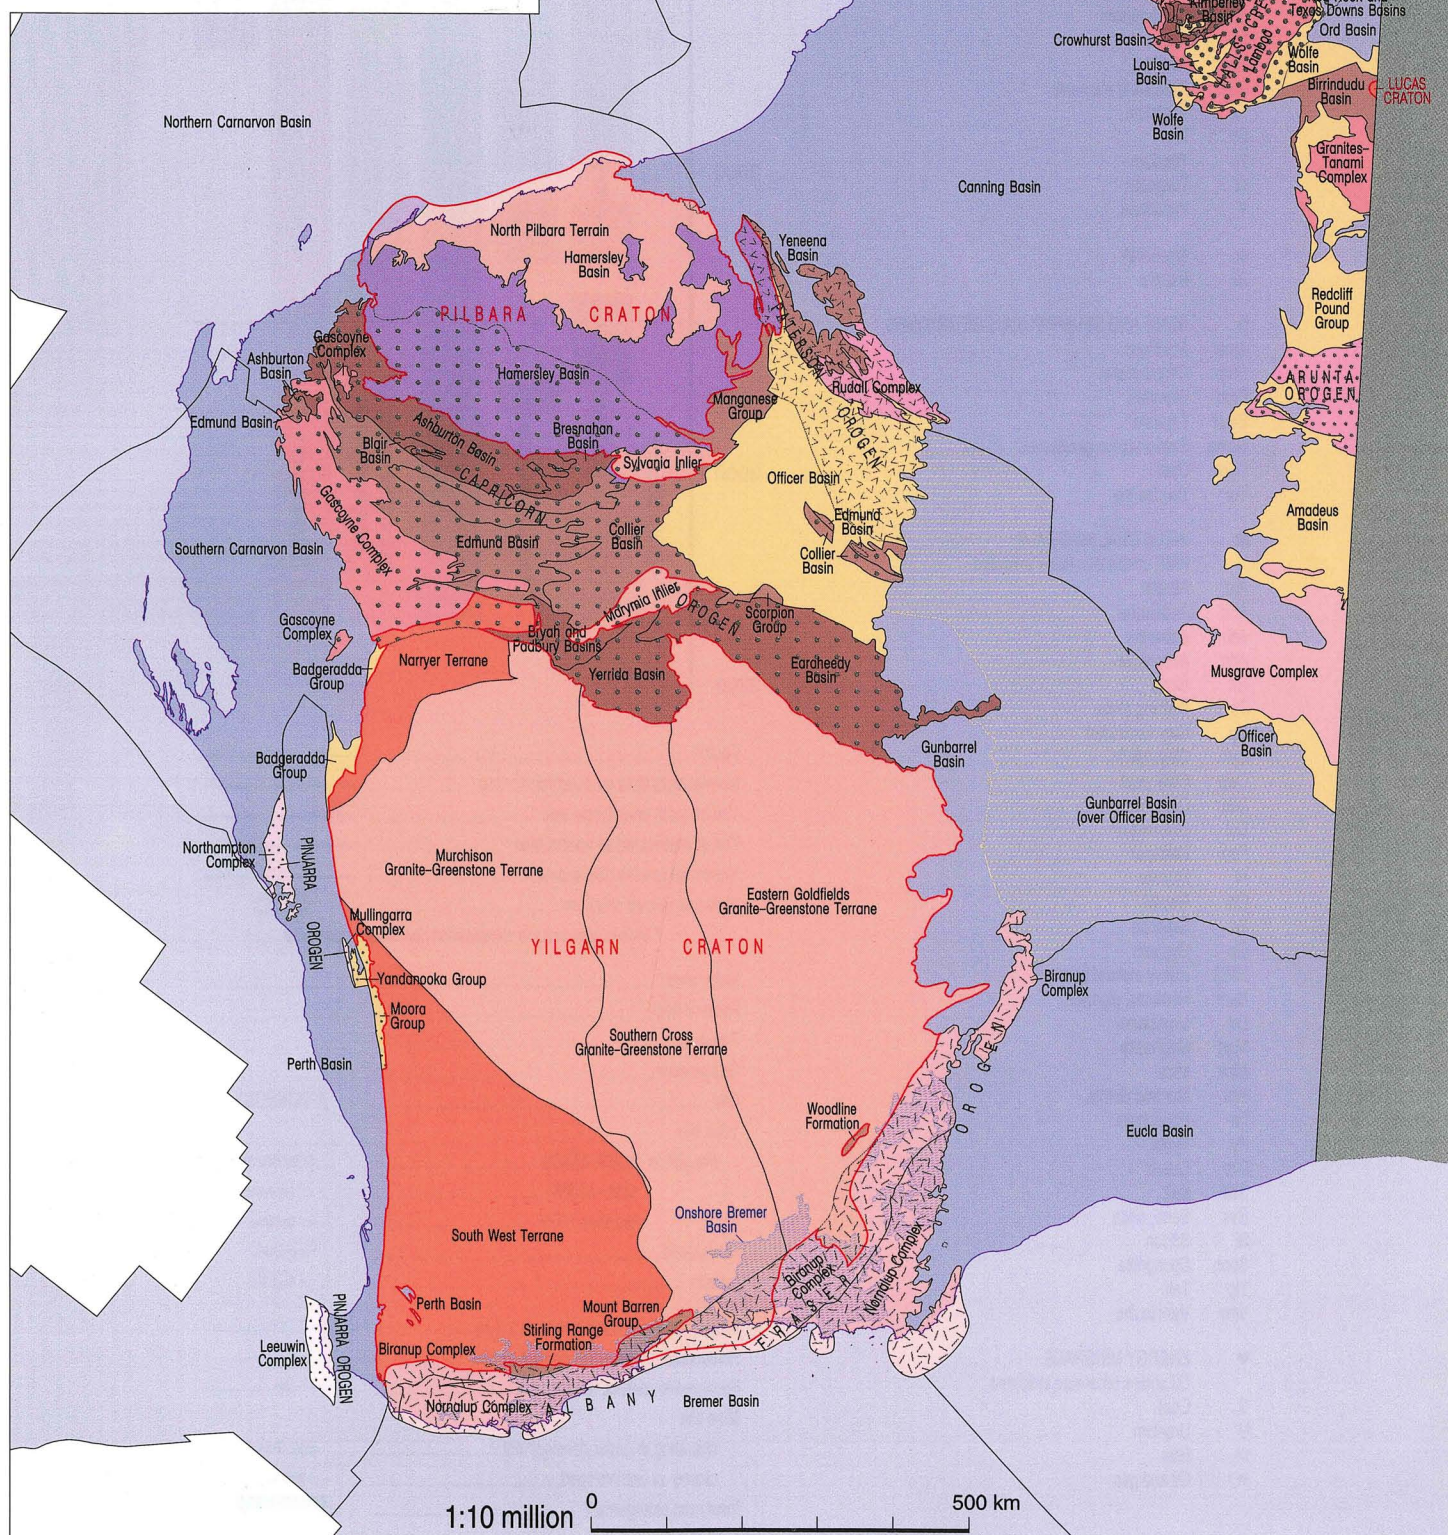

The 'petroleum' information comes from the Department's 'Western Australian Petroleum Information System' database (WAPIMS). Information is also available from the publication series 'Schedule of petroleum wells'. Enquiries regarding petroleum discoveries, reserves, development projects, and production should be addressed to the Petroleum Operations Division.

All maps in this publication have been produced using the Albers Equal Area Projection (Geocentric Datum of Australia 1994), with central meridian 121°00'E and standard parallels 17°30' and 13°30'S.

Two code numbers are used to locate a site in this booklet. The first code number is the map number and the second represents the 1:100 000 map sheet number. From the four digit map sheet number, the first two digits give the east-west co-ordinate, and the second two digits the north-south co-ordinate.
